Bio

After encountering one of his presentations, people walk away feeling more confident, more informed and more dedicated to their purpose, passion and assignment as they march towards their destiny.

Rickey was born in Camden, SC and is a graduate of South Carolina State University. He later received a Masters in Theological Studies from National Bible College and Seminary (Fort Washington, MD). Later, as a Professor at the Jericho Christian Training College, he taught “Christian Apologetics” and “Courtship vs Dating” for many years.

For 10 years, Rickey served as Director of the Singles Ministry at the Jericho City of Praise (Landover, MD) and five years as Co-Director. He has seen his share of challenges that both single and married people face. He has committed much attention to those who are single, engaged, married, divorced and remarried. As a result, Rickey started an on-line group called “Courtship Verses Dating.” With this group, he has reached and continues to reach and assisted over forty-five thousand people all over the world in areas ranging from purpose to relationships to the everyday challenges of the Christian faith.

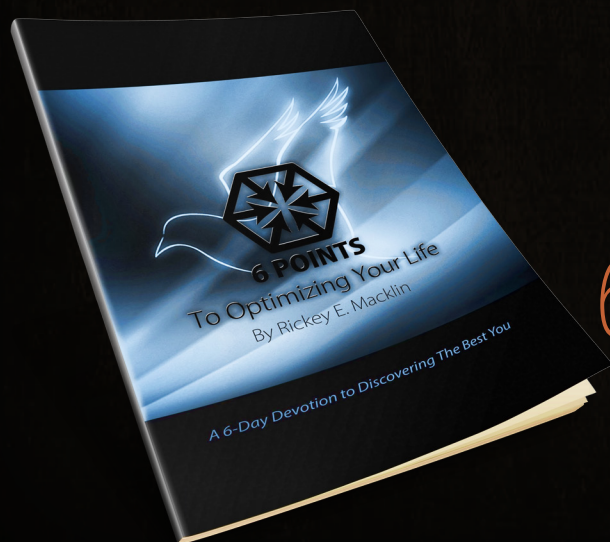

Additionally, for many years Rickey served as a Youth Ministry leader where he experienced the weekly opportunity of impacting young people’s lives and assisting them in unlocking the doors to their destinies. The young people were taught to stand on I Timothy 4:12 and have lives that are characterized by spiritual courage, holiness, charity, faith, purity and the ability to think critically and act upon the issues facing their generation.

Through his books, on-line bible study tools, college classes, workshops, seminars, and speaking engagements, Rickey strives to help people aspire to become the “best you God created you to be”. He adamantly believes that life is purposed driven and that finding your purpose is absolutely necessary to living a fulfilled life. He is a firm believer that with God, nothing is impossible to achieve or attain.
